

LOOKING FOR FLEXIBLE WORK?

Experienced phlebotomists sought to support laboratory testing samples of blood and hair to be analysed for the presence of drugs and alcohol.

Key requirements: Qualified in Phlebotomy. Discretion, attention to detail, empathy and an understanding and diplomatic manner are essential qualities of this role as you will be involved with some very sensitive cases. You will need access to a car, mobile phone and computer.

Responsibilities of the post: To visit clients between office hours, to collect samples for drugs & alcohol analysis in accordance with strict procedures. Training will be provided.

Remuneration: This is casual and flexible work. Full training followed up by on-going support is provided, along with excellent pay and travel allowances.

General Overview: Our sample collectors find the role very rewarding with the advantage of being able to attend appointments around their own availability. The appointments take 20-30 minutes plus any travelling time to the client's premises.

Contact Chris at chris@cansfordlabs.co.uk for more details.